

Page Turning Device

Researchers and students at the Colorado School of Mines have developed a page turning device using a foot actuated page turning device adapted for use with bound sheets of paper. This page turning device is inexpensive, yet durable, employing affordable, mechanical components. Specifically, this invention is an apparatus that selectively turns one of a plurality of pages positioned on a stand without the use of electricity.

Inventors: Dr. Cathy Skokan, Julie VanLaanen, Derena Tveten, Gina Gassman, Jessica Lolley