Residency Classification in Colorado

Residency petition requirements and submission deadlines are subject to change without notice. The information on this page is considered to be general guidance and is not legal advice. Refer to state statutes to view the actual law. Tuition classification is governed by state law (Title 23, Article 7, of the Colorado Revised Statutes of 1973, as amended) and by judicial decisions that apply to all public institutions of higher education in Colorado, and is subject to change at any time. The university is not free to make exceptions to the rules except as specifically permitted by state law.

Regardless of how long a student has been in Colorado, being in the State on a temporary basis for the purpose of an education is not enough to gain residency status. Furthermore, after a student is enrolled at an institution, their classification for tuition purposes remains unchanged in the absence of clear and convincing evidence to the contrary.
